OUR MISSION
To support, organize and empower the indigenous community in Ventura County.

OUR VISION
We envision a strong indigenous immigrant community actively engaged to achieve just working and living conditions, equality, and full human rights in the broader community.

A WORD FROM THE MICOP TEAM
Dear MICOP Friends,
We cannot believe how quickly 2017 has come and gone. We are filled with gratitude for what the year has brought, both in challenges and in successes. We are pleased to share our work over the last year and hope it inspires you as it does us to continue working and building a more just and fair future.

INDIGENOUS KNOWLEDGE CONFERENCE

MICOP, in collaboration with Centro Binacional para el Desarrollo Indígena Oaxaqueño(CBDIO), held our 4th Annual Indigenous Knowledge Conference at Oxnard College. At least 200 participants enjoyed a day of workshops with themes that focused on indigenous immigration ranging from “Know Your Rights” to “Immigration Policy” and “Indigenous Health”.

We were very honored to feature Yosimar Reyes, renowned poet, media creator and undocumented indigenous activist as our morning key note speaker. We closed the day with a lecture from indigenous scholar, Dr. Elizabeth Gonzalez, on the psychological impact of migration on indigenous youth.

Be sure to join us for our 5th Annual Indigenous Knowledge conference on April 20th, 2018!

TASTE OF OAXACA

Our Taste of Oaxaca event was held in March 2017, to raise funds for our Tequio Scholarship Fund. This year’s event was graciously hosted by the Ventura County Credit Union and featured an array of tastes from Oaxaca including tlanyudas and chapulines. We also heard from two of our youth, as well as a family, about the impact of the fund, and the hope and aspirations for the future.

This event, along with a sponsorship from Edison International allowed us to award a record $18,000 in scholarships to over 21 indigenous college students and college bound students!

Help us continue to support the next generation of indigenous leadership by participating in next year’s scholarship fund raising event in March, or donate to the fund at any time by visiting www.mixteco.org/donate and choosing “Tequio Scholarship” from the dropdown menu.
"The indigenous community has been discriminated against, segregated and bullied for many years.

To have a scholarship that focus on indigenous student means that there are people that care and believe in us.

This gives me hope that we still change the world."

-Israel Vasquez
Tequio Scholarship Recipient
NIGHT IN OAXACA: NUESTRAS ESTRELLAS

Our annual fundraiser “Night in Oaxaca: Nuestras Estrellas” (Our Stars) was attended by a record 460 individuals! We began the evening with blessings from members of the Chumash community, as well as blessings in Mixteco and Zapoteco.

We were honored to have Oxnard Mayor Pro Tem Carmen Ramirez as our key note speaker. We were incredibly proud to highlight and recognize 21 indigenous youth with scholarships for their academic achievements. Guests dined on a traditional mole dinner, as well as Oaxacan appetizers and a Oaxacan dessert. Thank you to our sponsors who made the evening possible, including our “Luchador” sponsor, The California Endowment.

We can’t wait to see you at next year’s event on August 10th, 2018 at the Olivas Adobe!

DIA DE MUERTOS

Radio Indigena hosted this year’s Dia de Muertos “Noche de Altares” (Night of Altars) event, which was held at Oxnard’s Heritage Square. Our evening began with an indigenous ceremony by Danza Mexica Cuachtemoc, who blessed and called the spirits of our fallen brothers and sisters. The evening’s music was provided by MICOP’s talented radio DJs Jose Cruz Gamez and Angelica Nevarez and included the Danza de los Diablitos.

Eight local organizations and groups participated in this year’s altar contest, including Future Leaders of America, La Hermandad Mexicana, CAUSE, Todo Poder al Pueblo, Lideres Campesinas, Food Water and Watch, Club Huave, MICOP and RADIO INDIGENA. We had the honor of Oxnard Mayor Pro Tem Carmen Ramirez, Oxnard Police Department Assistant Chief Eric Sonstegard, Antonio Flores from CRLA, MICOP Board Member Raul Gomez, Oxnard School District Superintendent Dr. Cesar Morales, and Consul Jonathan Alvarez as our altar judges. Our first place winner this year was Club Huave, with 2nd place going to CAUSE. Our 250 guests thoroughly enjoyed this evening of art, entertainment and culture! We hope you will join us for MICOP’s cultural events in 2018!
HEALTH ADVOCACY

This year the health access promotoras informed over 3,153 community members about health access options available for our community, regardless of their immigration status. We also conducted 154 surveys to understand the issues our community faces when accessing health services.

In order to raise these voices, four promotoras shared their story and testified at the board of supervisors on August 1st to improve the safety net health program. As a result of our advocacy work this past year, our county committed to changes to the application process and promotion. The success of our outreach and advocacy will increase access to health care in the indigenous immigrant and low-income community.

With a climate of fear under the federal administration preventing many immigrant families from seeking services at local hospitals and clinics, MICOP organized a press conference. At this press conference, Ventura County health providers issued a statement to members of the immigrant community, assuring them that local health providers will not share patient information with federal immigration agents or allow them access to their facilities. The event was well attended by over 100 community members and covered by local media such as the Ventura County Star, Camarillo Acorn, and Radio Indígena.
OUTREACH & ACCESS

GOLD COAST HEALTH PLAN

In 2017 MICOP was awarded a grant from Gold Coast Health Plan to address social determinants in accessing health care. MICOP hired a case manager to work with Gold Coast Health Plan members and help them guide and navigate Gold Coast Health Plan systems and services.

In November, we led a 14-person focus group that was held completely in Mixteco to learn about indigenous patient expectations when accessing health care. We also met with Gold Coast Health Plan leadership in an effort to improve existing systems as well as access for our indigenous community.

CONEXION CON MIS COMPANERAS

Conexion con Mis Compañeras entered its third year in 2017, to support both the indigenous and Latino communities of Ventura County with understanding depression and the various resources available.

From July to December 2017, Conexion has delivered 15 workshops to 91 participants, outreached to 1,817 people in the community, and assisted 38 people in accessing non-clinical services like support groups, food pantries, and Medi-Cal assistance. The program typically runs from July to June and is made possible by a contract with Ventura County Behavioral Health.

VOZ DE LA MUJER INDIGENA

Voz De La Mujer Indigena, MICOP’s domestic violence leadership development for indigenous survivors is now in its 4th year. In 2017 Voz’s team worked at both the local and state level to advocate and create change for indigenous survivors of domestic violence.

In Ventura County, Voz’s team of promotoras reached 1,000 individuals at different community events, hosted approximately 100 hours of broadcasting in Mixteco, Zapoteco and Spanish, regarding issues related to domestic violence in indigenous communities. Additionally, Voz launched a Safe Space (Espacio Seguro) for indigenous survivors to meet and speak informally and confidentially.

At the state level, MICOP participated in two statewide coalitions aimed at eradicating domestic violence in the state of California: California Partnership to End Domestic Violence(CPEDV) and the Culturally Responsive Domestic Violence Network(CRDVN).

The Voz team met with all 4 state legislators who represent Ventura County regarding issues that impact indigenous survivors of domestic violence.

Voz De La Mujer Indigena is made possible by a grant from the Blue Shield Foundation of California.
“AT THE BEGINNING I WANTED ADVICE. I WANTED SOMEONE TO TELL ME WHAT TO DO.

BUT AS I CONTINUED, I REALIZE ALL I WANTED WAS FOR SOMEONE TO LISTEN TO ME.”

-INDIGENOUS DV SURVIVOR ON VOZ DE LA MUJER INDIGENA’S SAFE SPACE GROUP

MICOP IN SANTA MARIA

MICOP expanded our outreach to the indigenous communities in Santa Maria and other areas of Northern Santa Barbara County, offering outreach and education about DACA and other Immigration Remedies.

Additionally, our staff organized events and forums, attended public events and meetings, and collaborated with other agencies, community organizations and public school institutions. In 2017, we held 51 events in Santa Maria and outreached to 4,393 individuals.

Our work in Santa Maria is funded by the California Department of Social Services.

MEDI-CAL OUTREACH & ENROLLMENT

MICOP is committed to providing access to basic needs services in Ventura County.

MICOP has contracted with the Ventura County Human Service Agency to provide Medi-Cal outreach and enrollment for the indigenous immigrant community. In 2017, our indigenous immigrant community lived even more so in a climate of fear, making our outreach efforts even more invaluable.

To date, MICOP has enrolled over 244 families and has provided much needed follow-up for renewal of 1738 Medi-Cal applications.
OUTREACH & ACCESS

PUENTES

Our PUENTES program is comprised of seven case managers that are based in the Oxnard, Hueneme and Rio school districts at different school sites. Our PUENTES case managers bring direct services to the indigenous immigrant families here in Ventura County.

In 2017, the PUENTES team worked on 800 cases, and made over 3,800 resource referrals. PUENTES also hosted 35 informative and educational workshops on parenting and family wellness.

These topics included: Stress and Post-Partum Depression, Deferred Action, Recognizing the Signs of Suicide in Teenagers, Basic Information about Autism, Yoga Workshop, Music and Activities with Parents and Kids.

PUENTES is also piloting a basic literacy class for indigenous parents, with emphasis on basic but necessary skills that they use in their daily lives, such as how to write their name, date of birth and address. We are also working in conjunction with MICOP’s Plaza Comunitaria.

Our PUENTES staff is a vital component of our organization as they directly serve our families with a linguistically and culturally appropriate approach.

We are located at different sites including Rio Plaza Elementary School, Hueneme School District at Oxnard Adult Continuing Education and Chavez Elementary School.

INDIGENOUS LANGUAGE SERVICES

MICOP continues to offer Indigenous Language Services. We currently contract with over 65 medical providers and social service providers in Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and Ventura Counties. We also steer a linguistic network geared to adding to the body of information on indigenous interpretation. To date we have trained over 75 medical interpreters, making Ventura County the largest concentration of Mixteco interpreters outside of Mexico. In 2017, MICOP’s Indigenous Language Services provided 1800 hours of interpretation to at least 25 agencies.

INDIVIDUAL & FAMILY ENGAGEMENT COLLABORATIVE PROJECT (IFECP)

MICOP was awarded a contract with the Tri-Counties Regional Center (TCRC) in 2017 to create the Individual & Family Engagement Collaborative Project. With this new project, MICOP hired a team of 3 promotoras and a project coordinator, who provide outreach, individual education, and case management to support families who have a loved one with intellectual and developmental disabilities. The team also worked in conjunction with TCRC’s Rainbow Connection parents to expand the available services to the families.

In its inaugural year, the IFECP team participated in 13 outreach events and were able to reach an estimated number of 755 people.

EVERY WOMAN COUNTS

Every Woman Counts is a new contract for MICOP that was designed by Santa Barbara Public Health to reach out to indigenous women in Ventura County.

Through this program, MICOP has begun to provide onsite community education about breast and cervical cancer, and referrals to Every Women Counts (EWC) to Ventura County Mixtec women.
COMMUNITY ORGANIZING

2017 brought forth many challenges for our indigenous immigrant community, especially under the new federal administration. Despite overreaching executive orders, our indigenous immigrant community found the strength and resiliency to continue to push for systemic change.

After many months of advocacy through our Labor Justice campaign, and in collaboration with our partner CAUSE, our Farmworker Bill of Rights moved from being a resolution to becoming an allocation in the county’s budget, which in created the first Farmworker Resource Program in Ventura County. MICOP was tasked with selected 4 organizations to help develop the program, in partnership with county growers.

MICOP also worked on creating safe spaces for immigrants both at a local and state level. We were a part of a local coalition working and eventually winning a campaign to make Oxnard a “safe city” for immigrants. We further partnered with other organizations to host citizenship fairs for over 100 Ventura County residents. We also worked with partner agencies and state elected officials to designate California a “safe state” through SB-54.

We supported our DACA youth with information and outreach, and when the administration moved to rescind DACA in Fall 2017, MICOP hosted a rally in support of our youth attended by hundreds of supporters as well as Congresswoman Julia Brownley, Oxnard Mayor Pro Tem Carmen Ramirez, and Oxnard School District Trustee Denis O’Leary.

Our community organizing and labor justice work is supported by the McCune Foundation.
MICOP launched a Wage Theft Investigation Program with support from the National Employment Law Project (NELP). Under this program, MICOP hired a Labor Advocate, who is working on a few cases in support of Ventura County’s indigenous farmworkers. In 2017, she has worked on 6 cases to be heard by the Agricultural Labor Relations Board in order to improve working conditions, and 4 cases regarding workplace language advocacy.

She has also trained 20 indigenous farmworkers on workplace violations including how to track wage theft, and information regarding labor laws. She has developed successful and productive collaborations with California Rural Legal Assistance, the Agricultural Labor Relations Board and the Division of Workers’ Compensation.

MONTHLY COMMUNITY MEETING

When MICOP began in 2001 one of the first events held was a food and diaper distribution. This initial event has turned into what is now our monthly community meeting.

Twelve times a year at Haydock Middle School and six times at Rio Real Elementary School, MICOP staff and volunteers host our monthly community meeting.

Our monthly community meetings are a means to provide outreach, and are an opportunity to organize our families and build community. Our meetings are held in both English, Spanish and Mixteco.

We also have meaningful cultural events to celebrate and preserve our indigenous culture, including: Dia de Niños, Dia de Madres, Dia de Muertos and Fiesta Navideña.

In 2017 we reached an average of 225 families monthly.
COMMUNITY
EMPOWERMENT

TEQUIO YOUTH GROUP
Our TEQUIO Youth Group serves youth aged 13-25 by building pride and community awareness of indigenous people and advocating for academic support in higher education. Tequio Youth Group meets every Monday, and in 2017 was regularly attended by 20 indigenous youth.

This year our youth continued their advocacy for environmental justice and focused on educating their community on the use of pesticides, both in the home and in the work place. 470 indigenous individuals received this crucial information. The youth also developed podcasts on pesticide safety, which are played on Radio Indigena.

The Tequio Youth Group was actively involved in access to higher education and equity trainings. Youth and their parents participated in a series of workshops that covered A-G requirements(requirements to be eligible for college/university), financial aid, the DREAM Act as well as an overview of the application process to both public and private institutions. College-bound indigenous youth also received technical assistance until their application was successfully submitted.

Lastly, Tequio Youth Leaders have been involved in reproductive justice work. Approximately 10 Tequio Youth Leaders took part in “Making Proud Choices”, a training provided by Planned Parenthood.

Through MICOP’s Tequio Scholarship Fund, we’ve awarded over $18,000 to 21 indigenous youth pursuing their higher education dreams.

Funding for Tequio Youth Group is made possible by Edison International, Southern California Gas, Social Justice Fund, Funders Youth Organizing Collaborative, Oxnard Police Department and the California Endowment.
COMMUNITY EMPOWERMENT

RADIO INDIGENA, 94.1 FM

After 3 years of development, training and growth, Radio Indígena finally broadcasted on FM radio in March 2017! We celebrated the grand event with over 50 community members and supporters. Our evening culminated in a countdown to illuminate our handmade 7 foot tall bamboo radio tower with the words “On Air” (English) on one side and “Lu Bi” (Zapoteco) on the other side. In May 2017, a new generation of 24 radio DJs graduated Radio Indígena’s 40-hour training.

Over the course of 2017, Radio Indígena created 22 original programs, and currently hosts 40-hours of programming over 7-days a week. The Radio Advisory Committee held 2 very successful fundraising dances to support Radio Indígena. The Radio Advisory Committee also launched targeted outreach events into Ventura County’s fields in order to connect directly with farmworkers.

Radio is proud to announce the official launch of our first radio novella, produced by us in collaboration with UCLA and PCI Media Impact.

"Radio Indígena is my opportunity to have a say in the media, and at the same, express on a larger platform the feelings of my community, which often suffers social isolation.

It is an opportunity to show my commitment; to be able to empower myself and give my little grain of sand (my tequio) in order to improve our society."

STRENGTHENING COMMUNITY CAPACITY

PLAZA COMUNITARIA
MICOP’s signature adult literacy course, Plaza Comunitaria (Community Place) continued to reach adults to teach them how to read and write in Spanish utilizing curriculum from the INEA (Instituto Nacional para la Educación de los Adultos). Students can take a test at the MICOP office to receive Mexican elementary and secondary graduation certificates. Literacy classes are taught 4 nights per week for all levels. Our classes are attended by 8-10 adult literacy learners nightly from Tuesday through Friday.

BEBE SANO
MICOP continued our signature Bebe Sano (Health Baby) parenting classes with support from the First 5 Ventura County and Las Islas Family Medical Group. This series of classes is designed for new parents to teach them about raising a healthy baby in the United States. In 2017, we offered 7 series of the 8 classes with a total of 64 participants.

APRENDIENDO CON MAMA Y PAPA
MICOP’s Aprendiendo con Mama y Papa (Learning with Mom and Dad) parenting class was offered with the support of First 5 and the Oxnard School District. These classes are for children aged 2-5 to promote socializing and reinforce the value of quality time between children and parents. This year, we held 12 series of 6 classes, and had 233 parents and children participating together.

VIVIENDO CON AMOR
The Viviendo Con Amor (Living with Love) program is a curriculum that was developed in-house at MICOP. The goal of the program is for participants to learn about the value of self-esteem, and the negative impact domestic violence has on the family. The program also addresses depression and anxiety as symptoms of domestic violence. Under this program we provide case management and referrals to mental health providers and given 6 series of 8 workshops to 58 participants. We have held over 48 hours of programming on Radio Indigena that touch on topics covered in the Living with Love classes. Additionally, we have included themes that address LGBTQ identities and sexual health. This program is made possible through a contract with Ventura County Behavioral Health.

UCSB EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

With the support of the Kellogg Foundation and in partnership with the University of California, Santa Barbara, we launched our first ever training program for assistant pre-school teachers. This two-year project provides indigenous migrant women early childhood education coursework. The end goal is that they become teacher aids, and will in-turn teach our indigenous community’s children our own culture, history and language. This initiative is the first of its kind in Ventura County.

MUJERES INDÍGENAS AVANZANDO JUNTAS (INDIGENOUS WOMEN ADVANCING TOGETHER)

2017 saw the graduation and full program completion of 20 medical and healthcare community outreach workers from our Avanzando 2016 program. MICOP’s Avanzando program was created to support indigenous immigrant women as they break into the high-paying field of medical interpreters by leveraging cultural and linguistic capital as indigenous promotoras.

This past year, 5 women earned scholarships and took the first step towards becoming certified healthcare interpreters with the Certification Commission for Healthcare Interpreters (CCHI)! This work was made possible by the Women’s Foundation of California.

TU’UN SAVI - APRENDIENDO A LEER Y ESCRIBIR EN MIXTECO

The purpose of this course is to support indigenous people who want to learn to read and write Mixtec. Many people think that indigenous language aren’t written, but that’s not true! With this course students learn to write in their own language-- from drafting an e-mail, to using social media, to creating poetry, and more!

Tu’un Savi meets every Friday evening from 6-8pm. The class curriculum covers the alphabet and the tones of Mixteco, as well as reading and writing words/sentences/phrases.

This work is made possible with the support of UCSB.
CALIFORNIA REDUCING DISPARITIES PROJECT

MICOP launched our 5-year California Reducing Disparities Project (CRDP) in spring 2017. MICOP is 1 of 35 Implementation Pilot Projects spread across California that was selected to improve access to mental health services and to add to the current body of knowledge for underserved minority populations in the field of mental health.

Through this project, MICOP will evaluate our Living with Love (Viviendo con Amor) program in order to move it towards being evidenced based. As part of our program launch, MICOP hired and trained a bilingual (Spanish/English) Evaluation Coordinator, as well as 3 bilingual (Spanish/Mixteco) promotoras who offered three series of 8 workshops to 75 individuals. This same team reached over 1,000 individuals about the program in it’s inaugural year.

MICOP is proud to be collaborating with the UCLA Kaiser Permanente Center for Health Equity, UC Davis Center for Reducing Health Disparities and the Psychology Applied Research Center at Loyola Marymount University. This project is funded through the California Department of Public Health, Office of Health Equity Office.
CURANDO EL ALMA

Healing the Soul - Curando el Alma - Na Sándaeé Inié research activities aim to authenticate, validate, integrate, and celebrate indigenous healing practices traditionally used by local Mixteco/Indígena Mexican communities in Ventura County to alleviate mental health symptoms associated with stress, anxiety, and depression.

The 3-year mixed-methods research initiative is being conducted by an indigenous led research team and involves more than 300 members of local indigenous communities.

This project is funded through the state of California’s MHSA Innovations Funds and Ventura County Behavioral Health.

BUILDING MIXTEC COMMUNITY CAPACITY FOR BREAST HEALTH, PHASE 3

In 2017, MICOP entered Phase 3 of a partnership with UCLA to build the Mixtec community’s capacity to engage in research that can benefit our community; specifically, we are looking to address social determinants, health care system factors and individual factors that promote breast health. We developed a 2-hour, 8 series Radio Novela in Spanish and Mixteco languages that promotes and informs best practices relevant to breast health for the indigenous community. We trained four- Mixteco speaking promotoras (Community Health Workers) to conduct outreach and education in wellness visits and breast health and to help navigate indigenous women to local clinics and programs.
MICOP IN THE COMMUNITY

“RELEASE RAUL GOMEZ”

Our MICOP community was shaken near the end of August by the arrest and detention of beloved community leader and MICOP board member, Raul Gomez. On the morning of August 29, 2017, Raul was stopped by Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) agents as he was leaving home for work.

Unable to locate the person they were originally looking for, they targeted Raul. Although he knew his legal rights Raul was unable to defend himself against the officers’ aggressive and abusive behavior and he was arrested. Raul ended up imprisoned at the Theo Lacy Facility in Orange, CA - but he was not alone.

MICOP immediately mobilized the indigenous community, partner organizations and media, collected more than 1,500 signatures and launched the “Release Raul/Libertad a Raul” campaign demanding his release. After some time, Raul was freed on bail and was back at MICOP the next day, giving his Tequío (community service), more determined than ever to help his compañeros (peers) that are incarcerated under the industrial prison complex.

We continue to be vigilant and in support of others that have been targeted like Raul by unfair immigration policies. MICOP started a Legal Aid Fund to support our detained indigenous brothers and sisters, who face systemic barriers when accessing legal services and when navigating the federal court system. Please consider making a donation to support our efforts at www.mixteco.org/donate
THOMAS FIRE RAPID RESPONSE

For over 20 days, Ventura County was impacted by the uncontrollable Thomas Fire. The Thomas Fire stands as the worst fire in modern California history, with over 230,000 acres burned, more than 700 homes destroyed, at least 32,000 individuals evacuated, and thousands of farmworkers who worked under unhealthy conditions caused by the fire’s smoke.

Many local non-profit organizations have taken the mantle of providing rapid response services and information. MICOP’s team started to collect thousands of particle masks (commonly known as N95 masks) and distributed over 15,000 among our farmworker communities and low income neighborhoods in both Ventura and Santa Barbara County. Many community members had no access to these masks and were unaware about the poor air quality created under by the Thomas Fire. We provided this information in Spanish and Mixteco, to educate the workers regarding the importance of the masks, how to properly wear the masks, what to watch out for and how to monitor the air quality during this disaster in Spanish and Mixteco.

MICOP has also been at the forefront of language access, providing crucial information from the Office of Emergency Services in Spanish and other indigenous languages to inform our non-English speaking community. This information included updates on the path of the fire, evacuations, water advisories, as well as school and road closures. Given that all of this information was English-only for the first 10 days of the fire, MICOP stepped in and provided our community with this crucial information in Spanish on our website and social media pages.

MICOP continues to monitor recovery efforts and is attending various community and coalition meetings in order to support indigenous immigrants affected by the fire. We hope to continue this work so that our community is no longer left out of the conversation in emergency situations.
2017 was a year full of community, strength, and resiliency. We could not have done it without the support of our partners, funders, volunteers and you!

Stay connected with us! We look forward to a brighter 2018 for Ventura County’s Indigenous Immigrant Community!
